

SOCIALISTS DECIDE WAY TO RUN CITY

Conferrees from Milwaukee and New York Formulate Programme for Schenectady's Guidance.

[SPECIAL DESPATCH TO THE HERALD.] SCHENECTADY, N. Y., Sunday.—As a result of conferences attended by Mayor Emil Seidel, of Milwaukee, Morris G. Hillquit, of New York, Henry Bruere, director of the municipal research bureau, of New York; E. L. Heydecker, Deputy Tax Commissioner, of New York, and others, called in to advise Mayor George R. Lunn and his heads of departments, a municipal programme has been formulated, the initial move being to establish an accounting system whereby the municipality will be placed on a businesslike basis. The council in caucus last night authorized the engagement of an expert in municipal accounting to reorganize the city's system.

Next in importance, it was decided to place the tax assessment valuations on a one hundred per cent basis and establish land value maps. Following this as soon as possible, the Administration will inaugurate reforms in the municipal departments, particularly in the Health Bureau, where maternity and infancy nurses will be provided to care for children until school age, while eight school physicians and four nurses will look after the health of children already in school. The Health Bureau will be used for educational work, the schools will be made recreation centres and health and hygiene talks will be given.

Other features to follow will be an open air school for incipient tuberculosis children. A room will be set aside for special work for subnormal children in the public schools, municipal food being furnished those suffering from malnutrition.

Already municipal skating rinks are being opened. Band concerts will be given Sunday afternoons in a theatre or the armory. In the future the school buildings will be used for neighborhood dances and as social centres.

A milk chemist will be employed at once. A coasting ordinance is to be adopted permitting the use of coasting boats for recreation. A social survey will be another innovation, together with an investigation of the physical condition of city employees. The Sunday closing act is now being strictly enforced and gambling places have been told to close up. In regard to the Excise law the socialists believe that all or none of the saloons should be open.

WED SIXTY YEARS, WALT AT JUBILEE

Mr. and Mrs. Hyman Heyman Get Congratulations from President and Mayor on Anniversary.

Although each is more than eighty years old, Mr. and Mrs. Hyman Heyman, of No. 21 East 118th street, waited last night at a reception given in celebration of the sixtieth anniversary of their wedding. As soon as the orchestra sounded the first notes Mr. and Mrs. Heyman took their place in the centre of the floor and made a complete circuit of the dance room in Lexington Hall, at No. 109 East 118th street, where the celebration was held.

Four generations of the Heyman family were present at the reception, which was attended by more than two hundred. Invitations had been sent by Mr. and Mrs. Heyman to President Taft and Mayor Gaynor, and congratulatory letters were read from both officials. In addition to the eight children of Mr. and Mrs. Heyman, twenty-nine grandchildren and six great grandchildren were present.

Mr. and Mrs. Heyman were married in Nuremberg, Germany. They came here soon after their wedding and have lived in this city ever since. Until his retirement ten years ago Mr. Heyman was a prominent merchant on the east side. He is eighty-six years old. His wife is one year his junior. Before the dancing last night Mr. and Mrs. Heyman were remarried by the Rev. Sabath Light, who performed a similar ceremony when the couple celebrated their golden wedding.

WOMEN GO TO CHURCH, MEN FILL THE JAILS

Prison Preacher Declares Low Proportion of Women Convicts Remains at Same Low Figure.

"Women fill the churches; men fill the jails, and from an experience of more than twenty-two years, I believe the two facts are related," said the Rev. George Sanderson, chaplain of the City Prison, at the afternoon meeting in the Labor Temple, at Second avenue and Fourteenth street, yesterday.

Mr. Sanderson said there are now more than six hundred prisoners in the Tombs and that but six are women. One day last summer 75 were there, he said, and in the last year more than fifteen thousand, but the proportion of women remains the same all the time. In the State penal institutions, the proportion is even smaller. In Sing Sing are 1,600 persons, and in Auburn and Dannemora 1,200 each, while the women's prison at Auburn has only 120 inmates.

SEEKING SOCIAL JUSTICE.

John Mitchell Explains the Objects of Unionism.

More than a thousand persons last evening attended the second of the 1912 series of union meetings in the Church of the Divine Paternity. The speaker was John Mitchell, the labor leader, who declared that the real purpose of all trade unionism was to obtain social justice, and said that all of the strikes and boycotts and all of the official actions taken by the unions were merely steps in the direction of their ideal.

OFFICIAL:—"NO ICE FAMINE"

Good news was received from the ice fields of the Hudson yesterday. Mr. Wesley M. Oler, president of the American Ice Company, said that a big force of men would begin cutting ice at different points up and down the river this morning.

Democratic Army of Hopefuls Grows; Every Member Is "Willing to Accept"

EVERY DEMOCRAT IN THE COUNTRY HAS ACCEPTED A PERSONAL INVITATION TO COME ON IN.

Governor Blease, of South Carolina, Alone Breaks Spell by Disavowing Candidacy.

SOME OF THEM ARE COY

Tammany Oracle Predicts That Candidates Will Tax the Hotel Accommodations in Baltimore.

Word was received here yesterday that Governor Cole L. Blease, of South Carolina, is not a candidate for the democratic Presidential nomination.

It may be that some of the other twenty-seven democratic Governors will make similar announcements, but in democratic circles it hardly is expected. Figuratively speaking, the Presidential swimming pool is fine, and practically every democrat in the country who ever yearned for public office has accepted a personal invitation to "come on in." It would not cause surprise if Charles F. Murphy announced that he is a candidate.

The list of candidates has grown magically. Additions are made to it every day. It is all due to the belief of the democrats that this is to be their year.

Lightning rods are going up on the houses of about all the democrats who ever aspired to hold office, and some of the aspirants actually are making inquiries already regarding Washington and the White House.

"Some of the candidates are coy. They don't declare their candidacies, but they are carrying on little flirtations of their own and hoping. How many there will be by Convention time no one will predict. If the number should exceed the number of delegates in the Convention it would cause no great astonishment."

"It's a fine time they'll be havin'," said Sprag McQuarrie, one of the oracles of the local democracy. "Baltimore won't be able to provide sleeping accommodations for the candidates, to say nothing of the delegates and the twenty-five thousand Tammany men who are going over there to see that Charlie Murphy gets a fair deal. Why, I hear that seven of the Tammany district leaders, who are, of course, have little Presidential dreams of their own. You needn't repeat that, because I can't swear it's true, but it's an interesting report, anyhow."

"Who do you think will get it?" "There's a good deal of talk going round 'till he's a dark horse, but there won't be a dark horse in the whole democratic party by next June. They'll all be active candidates. I'm thinking of being one myself. What's that?"

There were only four or five persons who were regarded as leading candidates a month ago. They were Governor Woodrow Wilson, of New Jersey; Governor Judson Harmon, of Ohio; Speaker Champ Clark, of Missouri; and Representative Oscar W. Underwood, of Alabama. Since then, however, the "beaters" have been added and the woods are full of candidates.

Some of the other Governors who are, say, little bit hoping much are Frederick W. Plaflet, of Maine; Eugene N. Fox, of Massachusetts; Simeon E. Baldwin, of

Connecticut; John A. Dix, of New York; Thomas R. Marshall, of Indiana; John Burke, of North Dakota; John F. Shafroth, of Colorado; Les Crut, of Oklahoma; and William Hodges Mann, of Virginia.

Still other candidates are Representative Clark, Senator Johnson, of Maine; Joseph W. Folk, of Missouri; and Mayor Gaynor. Mayor Gaynor has said that he would rather be Mayor of New York city than be President of the United States or hold any other job in the gift of the people. This has not convinced the politicians, however, that he would welcome the nomination if it came his way. In fact, the Mayor is increasing every day. The belief of the men who are talking Gaynor is based on the supposition that the Baltimore crowd will resolve itself into a Donnybrook Fair performance and that the other candidates will "kill one another off."

Senator Johnson was thrust into the race after he made his "sacrifice bid" speech at the Jackson banquet in Washington. Looking straight at Mr. Bryan and using the usual democratic vocabulary, he said that what the democracy needs is for some one of its leading figures to make a "few sacrifice bids and advance other runners a base or two."

Mississippi has not been heard from, but, as the State has a large number of delegates for both Mississippi and Texas to "get in."

There was a sudden change in the temperature after Saturday. Then the thermometer registered three degrees below zero, the coldest weather in eight years. Yesterday the average temperature was sixteen degrees above zero. The highest temperature was at six o'clock last night, when the thermometer showed twenty-three degrees.

More than twelve thousand persons were skating at Van Cortlandt Park yesterday, the largest number seen there this season. The lakes in Central Park also attracted many skaters.

TUGBOATS AND TOW FAST IN THE ICE

One Vessel Crushed by Floes, Others in Peril Off Hastings on Hudson.

HASTINGS, N. Y., Sunday.—The Bismarck, an ocean going tugboat, commanded by Captain T. Brown, of the Knickerbocker Ice Company, with the barges William Baverly, John F. Ford, Joseph Magee and John J. Blinell, from Rockland Lake for New York, laden with ice, have been frozen fast in ice nine inches thick off Hastings-on-Hudson since noon yesterday. The tugboat Princess, Captain Woodworth, the bottom of which was crushed by ice floes, was cut loose from the tow and beached on the mud flats.

The crews have food and coal enough to last until to-morrow, but have been asking for help to get out of the ice. William Baverly, pilot of the Princess, says his boat is in a serious position, and if assistance is not sent will be destroyed when the ice breaks up.

The barge Magee is jammed under the stern of the Baverly. She is a new boat just out of the ship yard, and probably will sink when the ice breaks.

Joseph Conrad, the world's most famous writer of sea stories, has written especially for the NEW YORK HERALD a new novel called "Chancer," which will be of peculiar interest to women. First chapter next Sunday.

FROZEN GAS PIPES HAMPER FAMILIES

Cold Snap Causes More Complaints to Companies Than for Many Years.

More frozen gas pipes have been reported this winter than in many years, and the last cold snap has resulted in more than twelve hundred complaints to the gas companies in the last five days. Their emergency departments have been taxed to the utmost, and many families have been forced to get along without gas for from one to four days.

Chafing dish dinners and candle light have become common since last Thursday, while men in charge of thawing the pipes have been working many hours extra each day. Many of the pipes freeze because they are too small and become clogged by moisture from the gas, which quickly condenses. Another fault is that feed pipes which connect the street main with the houses are laid only four feet below the surface and are not deep enough to escape the intense cold.

A gas company official says it is an error to suppose that the stopping of gas is due to the meter freezing. Meters in New York do not freeze, he said, because they are of the "dry" type. In all the $27,000 meters in New York less than one thousand are of the old "wet" type.

already regarding Washington and the White House.

"Some of the candidates are coy. They don't declare their candidacies, but they are carrying on little flirtations of their own and hoping. How many there will be by Convention time no one will predict. If the number should exceed the number of delegates in the Convention it would cause no great astonishment."

"It's a fine time they'll be havin'," said Sprag McQuarrie, one of the oracles of the local democracy. "Baltimore won't be able to provide sleeping accommodations for the candidates, to say nothing of the delegates and the twenty-five thousand Tammany men who are going over there to see that Charlie Murphy gets a fair deal. Why, I hear that seven of the Tammany district leaders, who are, of course, have little Presidential dreams of their own. You needn't repeat that, because I can't swear it's true, but it's an interesting report, anyhow."

"Who do you think will get it?" "There's a good deal of talk going round 'till he's a dark horse, but there won't be a dark horse in the whole democratic party by next June. They'll all be active candidates. I'm thinking of being one myself. What's that?"

There were only four or five persons who were regarded as leading candidates a month ago. They were Governor Woodrow Wilson, of New Jersey; Governor Judson Harmon, of Ohio; Speaker Champ Clark, of Missouri; and Representative Oscar W. Underwood, of Alabama. Since then, however, the "beaters" have been added and the woods are full of candidates.

Some of the other Governors who are, say, little bit hoping much are Frederick W. Plaflet, of Maine; Eugene N. Fox, of Massachusetts; Simeon E. Baldwin, of

Connecticut; John A. Dix, of New York; Thomas R. Marshall, of Indiana; John Burke, of North Dakota; John F. Shafroth, of Colorado; Les Crut, of Oklahoma; and William Hodges Mann, of Virginia.

Still other candidates are Representative Clark, Senator Johnson, of Maine; Joseph W. Folk, of Missouri; and Mayor Gaynor. Mayor Gaynor has said that he would rather be Mayor of New York city than be President of the United States or hold any other job in the gift of the people. This has not convinced the politicians, however, that he would welcome the nomination if it came his way. In fact, the Mayor is increasing every day. The belief of the men who are talking Gaynor is based on the supposition that the Baltimore crowd will resolve itself into a Donnybrook Fair performance and that the other candidates will "kill one another off."

Senator Johnson was thrust into the race after he made his "sacrifice bid" speech at the Jackson banquet in Washington. Looking straight at Mr. Bryan and using the usual democratic vocabulary, he said that what the democracy needs is for some one of its leading figures to make a "few sacrifice bids and advance other runners a base or two."

Mississippi has not been heard from, but, as the State has a large number of delegates for both Mississippi and Texas to "get in."

There was a sudden change in the temperature after Saturday. Then the thermometer registered three degrees below zero, the coldest weather in eight years. Yesterday the average temperature was sixteen degrees above zero. The highest temperature was at six o'clock last night, when the thermometer showed twenty-three degrees.

More than twelve thousand persons were skating at Van Cortlandt Park yesterday, the largest number seen there this season. The lakes in Central Park also attracted many skaters.

TUGBOATS AND TOW FAST IN THE ICE

One Vessel Crushed by Floes, Others in Peril Off Hastings on Hudson.

HASTINGS, N. Y., Sunday.—The Bismarck, an ocean going tugboat, commanded by Captain T. Brown, of the Knickerbocker Ice Company, with the barges William Baverly, John F. Ford, Joseph Magee and John J. Blinell, from Rockland Lake for New York, laden with ice, have been frozen fast in ice nine inches thick off Hastings-on-Hudson since noon yesterday. The tugboat Princess, Captain Woodworth, the bottom of which was crushed by ice floes, was cut loose from the tow and beached on the mud flats.

The crews have food and coal enough to last until to-morrow, but have been asking for help to get out of the ice. William Baverly, pilot of the Princess, says his boat is in a serious position, and if assistance is not sent will be destroyed when the ice breaks up.

The barge Magee is jammed under the stern of the Baverly. She is a new boat just out of the ship yard, and probably will sink when the ice breaks.

Joseph Conrad, the world's most famous writer of sea stories, has written especially for the NEW YORK HERALD a new novel called "Chancer," which will be of peculiar interest to women. First chapter next Sunday.

FROZEN GAS PIPES HAMPER FAMILIES

Cold Snap Causes More Complaints to Companies Than for Many Years.

More frozen gas pipes have been reported this winter than in many years, and the last cold snap has resulted in more than twelve hundred complaints to the gas companies in the last five days. Their emergency departments have been taxed to the utmost, and many families have been forced to get along without gas for from one to four days.

Chafing dish dinners and candle light have become common since last Thursday, while men in charge of thawing the pipes have been working many hours extra each day. Many of the pipes freeze because they are too small and become clogged by moisture from the gas, which quickly condenses. Another fault is that feed pipes which connect the street main with the houses are laid only four feet below the surface and are not deep enough to escape the intense cold.

A gas company official says it is an error to suppose that the stopping of gas is due to the meter freezing. Meters in New York do not freeze, he said, because they are of the "dry" type. In all the $27,000 meters in New York less than one thousand are of the old "wet" type.

There was a sudden change in the temperature after Saturday. Then the thermometer registered three degrees below zero, the coldest weather in eight years. Yesterday the average temperature was sixteen degrees above zero. The highest temperature was at six o'clock last night, when the thermometer showed twenty-three degrees.

More than twelve thousand persons were skating at Van Cortlandt Park yesterday, the largest number seen there this season. The lakes in Central Park also attracted many skaters.

TUGBOATS AND TOW FAST IN THE ICE

One Vessel Crushed by Floes, Others in Peril Off Hastings on Hudson.

HASTINGS, N. Y., Sunday.—The Bismarck, an ocean going tugboat, commanded by Captain T. Brown, of the Knickerbocker Ice Company, with the barges William Baverly, John F. Ford, Joseph Magee and John J. Blinell, from Rockland Lake for New York, laden with ice, have been frozen fast in ice nine inches thick off Hastings-on-Hudson since noon yesterday. The tugboat Princess, Captain Woodworth, the bottom of which was crushed by ice floes, was cut loose from the tow and beached on the mud flats.

The crews have food and coal enough to last until to-morrow, but have been asking for help to get out of the ice. William Baverly, pilot of the Princess, says his boat is in a serious position, and if assistance is not sent will be destroyed when the ice breaks up.

The barge Magee is jammed under the stern of the Baverly. She is a new boat just out of the ship yard, and probably will sink when the ice breaks.

Joseph Conrad, the world's most famous writer of sea stories, has written especially for the NEW YORK HERALD a new novel called "Chancer," which will be of peculiar interest to women. First chapter next Sunday.

FROZEN GAS PIPES HAMPER FAMILIES

Cold Snap Causes More Complaints to Companies Than for Many Years.

More frozen gas pipes have been reported this winter than in many years, and the last cold snap has resulted in more than twelve hundred complaints to the gas companies in the last five days. Their emergency departments have been taxed to the utmost, and many families have been forced to get along without gas for from one to four days.

Chafing dish dinners and candle light have become common since last Thursday, while men in charge of thawing the pipes have been working many hours extra each day. Many of the pipes freeze because they are too small and become clogged by moisture from the gas, which quickly condenses. Another fault is that feed pipes which connect the street main with the houses are laid only four feet below the surface and are not deep enough to escape the intense cold.

A gas company official says it is an error to suppose that the stopping of gas is due to the meter freezing. Meters in New York do not freeze, he said, because they are of the "dry" type. In all the $27,000 meters in New York less than one thousand are of the old "wet" type.

There was a sudden change in the temperature after Saturday. Then the thermometer registered three degrees below zero, the coldest weather in eight years. Yesterday the average temperature was sixteen degrees above zero. The highest temperature was at six o'clock last night, when the thermometer showed twenty-three degrees.

More than twelve thousand persons were skating at Van Cortlandt Park yesterday, the largest number seen there this season. The lakes in Central Park also attracted many skaters.

TUGBOATS AND TOW FAST IN THE ICE

One Vessel Crushed by Floes, Others in Peril Off Hastings on Hudson.

HASTINGS, N. Y., Sunday.—The Bismarck, an ocean going tugboat, commanded by Captain T. Brown, of the Knickerbocker Ice Company, with the barges William Baverly, John F. Ford, Joseph Magee and John J. Blinell, from Rockland Lake for New York, laden with ice, have been frozen fast in ice nine inches thick off Hastings-on-Hudson since noon yesterday. The tugboat Princess, Captain Woodworth, the bottom of which was crushed by ice floes, was cut loose from the tow and beached on the mud flats.

already regarding Washington and the White House.

"Some of the candidates are coy. They don't declare their candidacies, but they are carrying on little flirtations of their own and hoping. How many there will be by Convention time no one will predict. If the number should exceed the number of delegates in the Convention it would cause no great astonishment."

"It's a fine time they'll be havin'," said Sprag McQuarrie, one of the oracles of the local democracy. "Baltimore won't be able to provide sleeping accommodations for the candidates, to say nothing of the delegates and the twenty-five thousand Tammany men who are going over there to see that Charlie Murphy gets a fair deal. Why, I hear that seven of the Tammany district leaders, who are, of course, have little Presidential dreams of their own. You needn't repeat that, because I can't swear it's true, but it's an interesting report, anyhow."

"Who do you think will get it?" "There's a good deal of talk going round 'till he's a dark horse, but there won't be a dark horse in the whole democratic party by next June. They'll all be active candidates. I'm thinking of being one myself. What's that?"

There were only four or five persons who were regarded as leading candidates a month ago. They were Governor Woodrow Wilson, of New Jersey; Governor Judson Harmon, of Ohio; Speaker Champ Clark, of Missouri; and Representative Oscar W. Underwood, of Alabama. Since then, however, the "beaters" have been added and the woods are full of candidates.

Some of the other Governors who are, say, little bit hoping much are Frederick W. Plaflet, of Maine; Eugene N. Fox, of Massachusetts; Simeon E. Baldwin, of

Connecticut; John A. Dix, of New York; Thomas R. Marshall, of Indiana; John Burke, of North Dakota; John F. Shafroth, of Colorado; Les Crut, of Oklahoma; and William Hodges Mann, of Virginia.

Still other candidates are Representative Clark, Senator Johnson, of Maine; Joseph W. Folk, of Missouri; and Mayor Gaynor. Mayor Gaynor has said that he would rather be Mayor of New York city than be President of the United States or hold any other job in the gift of the people. This has not convinced the politicians, however, that he would welcome the nomination if it came his way. In fact, the Mayor is increasing every day. The belief of the men who are talking Gaynor is based on the supposition that the Baltimore crowd will resolve itself into a Donnybrook Fair performance and that the other candidates will "kill one another off."

Senator Johnson was thrust into the race after he made his "sacrifice bid" speech at the Jackson banquet in Washington. Looking straight at Mr. Bryan and using the usual democratic vocabulary, he said that what the democracy needs is for some one of its leading figures to make a "few sacrifice bids and advance other runners a base or two."

Mississippi has not been heard from, but, as the State has a large number of delegates for both Mississippi and Texas to "get in."

There was a sudden change in the temperature after Saturday. Then the thermometer registered three degrees below zero, the coldest weather in eight years. Yesterday the average temperature was sixteen degrees above zero. The highest temperature was at six o'clock last night, when the thermometer showed twenty-three degrees.

More than twelve thousand persons were skating at Van Cortlandt Park yesterday, the largest number seen there this season. The lakes in Central Park also attracted many skaters.

TUGBOATS AND TOW FAST IN THE ICE

One Vessel Crushed by Floes, Others in Peril Off Hastings on Hudson.

HASTINGS, N. Y., Sunday.—The Bismarck, an ocean going tugboat, commanded by Captain T. Brown, of the Knickerbocker Ice Company, with the barges William Baverly, John F. Ford, Joseph Magee and John J. Blinell, from Rockland Lake for New York, laden with ice, have been frozen fast in ice nine inches thick off Hastings-on-Hudson since noon yesterday. The tugboat Princess, Captain Woodworth, the bottom of which was crushed by ice floes, was cut loose from the tow and beached on the mud flats.

The crews have food and coal enough to last until to-morrow, but have been asking for help to get out of the ice. William Baverly, pilot of the Princess, says his boat is in a serious position, and if assistance is not sent will be destroyed when the ice breaks up.

The barge Magee is jammed under the stern of the Baverly. She is a new boat just out of the ship yard, and probably will sink when the ice breaks.

Joseph Conrad, the world's most famous writer of sea stories, has written especially for the NEW YORK HERALD a new novel called "Chancer," which will be of peculiar interest to women. First chapter next Sunday.

FROZEN GAS PIPES HAMPER FAMILIES

Cold Snap Causes More Complaints to Companies Than for Many Years.

More frozen gas pipes have been reported this winter than in many years, and the last cold snap has resulted in more than twelve hundred complaints to the gas companies in the last five days. Their emergency departments have been taxed to the utmost, and many families have been forced to get along without gas for from one to four days.

Chafing dish dinners and candle light have become common since last Thursday, while men in charge of thawing the pipes have been working many hours extra each day. Many of the pipes freeze because they are too small and become clogged by moisture from the gas, which quickly condenses. Another fault is that feed pipes which connect the street main with the houses are laid only four feet below the surface and are not deep enough to escape the intense cold.

A gas company official says it is an error to suppose that the stopping of gas is due to the meter freezing. Meters in New York do not freeze, he said, because they are of the "dry" type. In all the $27,000 meters in New York less than one thousand are of the old "wet" type.

There was a sudden change in the temperature after Saturday. Then the thermometer registered three degrees below zero, the coldest weather in eight years. Yesterday the average temperature was sixteen degrees above zero. The highest temperature was at six o'clock last night, when the thermometer showed twenty-three degrees.

More than twelve thousand persons were skating at Van Cortlandt Park yesterday, the largest number seen there this season. The lakes in Central Park also attracted many skaters.

TUGBOATS AND TOW FAST IN THE ICE

One Vessel Crushed by Floes, Others in Peril Off Hastings on Hudson.

HASTINGS, N. Y., Sunday.—The Bismarck, an ocean going tugboat, commanded by Captain T. Brown, of the Knickerbocker Ice Company, with the barges William Baverly, John F. Ford, Joseph Magee and John J. Blinell, from Rockland Lake for New York, laden with ice, have been frozen fast in ice nine inches thick off Hastings-on-Hudson since noon yesterday. The tugboat Princess, Captain Woodworth, the bottom of which was crushed by ice floes, was cut loose from the tow and beached on the mud flats.

The crews have food and coal enough to last until to-morrow, but have been asking for help to get out of the ice. William Baverly, pilot of the Princess, says his boat is in a serious position, and if assistance is not sent will be destroyed when the ice breaks up.

The barge Magee is jammed under the stern of the Baverly. She is a new boat just out of the ship yard, and probably will sink when the ice breaks.

Joseph Conrad, the world's most famous writer of sea stories, has written especially for the NEW YORK HERALD a new novel called "Chancer," which will be of peculiar interest to women. First chapter next Sunday.

FROZEN GAS PIPES HAMPER FAMILIES

Cold Snap Causes More Complaints to Companies Than for Many Years.

More frozen gas pipes have been reported this winter than in many years, and the last cold snap has resulted in more than twelve hundred complaints to the gas companies in the last five days. Their emergency departments have been taxed to the utmost, and many families have been forced to get along without gas for from one to four days.

Chafing dish dinners and candle light have become common since last Thursday, while men in charge of thawing the pipes have been working many hours extra each day. Many of the pipes freeze because they are too small and become clogged by moisture from the gas, which quickly condenses. Another fault is that feed pipes which connect the street main with the houses are laid only four feet below the surface and are not deep enough to escape the intense cold.

A gas company official says it is an error to suppose that the stopping of gas is due to the meter freezing. Meters in New York do not freeze, he said, because they are of the "dry" type. In all the $27,000 meters in New York less than one thousand are of the old "wet" type.

There was a sudden change in the temperature after Saturday. Then the thermometer registered three degrees below zero, the coldest weather in eight years. Yesterday the average temperature was sixteen degrees above zero. The highest temperature was at six o'clock last night, when the thermometer showed twenty-three degrees.

More than twelve thousand persons were skating at Van Cortlandt Park yesterday, the largest number seen there this season. The lakes in Central Park also attracted many skaters.

TUGBOATS AND TOW FAST IN THE ICE

One Vessel Crushed by Floes, Others in Peril Off Hastings on Hudson.

HASTINGS, N. Y., Sunday.—The Bismarck, an ocean going tugboat, commanded by Captain T. Brown, of the Knickerbocker Ice Company, with the barges William Baverly, John F. Ford, Joseph Magee and John J. Blinell, from Rockland Lake for New York, laden with ice, have been frozen fast in ice nine inches thick off Hastings-on-Hudson since noon yesterday. The tugboat Princess, Captain Woodworth, the bottom of which was crushed by ice floes, was cut loose from the tow and beached on the mud flats.

GIRL'S CONFESSION YIELDS FATHER WHO SLEW HIS SISTER

Daughter, After Three Years, Breaks Silence and Tells of Tragedy in Ohio.

FARMER HIRED AGENTS FOR DOUBLE TRAGEDY

Henry Hagengans, Arrested, Admits Causing the Murder of Wealthy Spinster and Her Employe.

ALL THREE ARE IN CUSTODY